

Pininfarina awarded in Geneva for the design of the Ferrari F12berlinetta

Turin, March 6, 2013 – The Pininfarina design team won the AutoDesign Award for the design of the Ferrari F12berlinetta, awarded today to Chairman Paolo Pininfarina by the editor-in-chief of the Czech magazine AutoDesign&Styling. Same award was assigned to Pininfarina last year for the design of the Ferrari FF.

The F12berlinetta, presented at the 2012 Geneva Motor Show, represents the new generation of Ferrari extreme V12 cars. The design of the F12berlinetta exalts the harmonious proportions, the aggressive but sleekly contoured lines of a car that delivers exceptional comfort and excellent usability despite its compact dimensions.

The award given to Pininfarina, who developed the design of F12berlinetta in collaboration with the Ferrari Styling Centre, is a further recognition of the ability of Pininfarina to interpret the spirit of the Prancing Horse's brand, a relationship that continues successfully for over 60 years.
